

THE PRODUCT SKETCH

Your final project for the last two weeks is a product sketch. It can be in the format of a product poster or a detailed single product sketch. If you're stuck on what product to do, feel free to take an interesting prop or object from the movie you drew.

Product Sketch

Try to flesh out small details of the product you draw. Include shadows, writing, mechanical details.

Product Poster

The product poster should have at least three different views of your product. This can be from different perspectives, or show different details or features of the product.
